How to fill out Globally Harmonized System (GHS) Compliant Label for your entry:

1. Product Identifier: Give your chili a name like "Afterburner," your soup - "Sweet Potato" or stew - "Bully Beef."
2. Signal Word: Pick one. DANGER (for really hot stuff) or WARNING (for the regular spices.)
3. Hazard Statement: List your basic ingredients here. List the type of meat – beef, pork, venison, chicken, etc. – or note if it is only vegetables. Additionally, tell what type of beans, vegetables, noodles, etc. are in it. We don't need to know your secret spices, but we want people to know if there's anything they may be allergic to.
4. Precautionary Statement: For chili, tell us if it is mild, medium, or hot. Add any other humorous warnings you think apply! For your soup or stew, let us know if it is mild, savory, or spicy and describe it to us!
5. Supplier Identification: Put your name here!
6. Pictograms: There are eight pictograms. Identify the ones you believe are applicable to your soup, stew, or chili. Use a marker to black out the ones that DON'T apply.
